*T*his month we will have a workshop, which is perfect considering all those jewels you bought at the auction last month.

Not only can you get fresh advice, but you can affirm what the original owner did to make your buy so healthy, or vis-versa. It never hurts to know the secrets of a given species, or what is going on in that pot.

this month. Her gain, our loss. We need a new volunteer to manage the job. Don't sweat it, if Kelsey could manage if from High School, you can do it too. On a lessor note, just volunteer for 2008, then we can get a new person for 2009. If you are not there yet, you can volunteer to just bring the goodies for Octo-

Auction Report

We auctioned off 84 items ranging in price from $5.00 to $200.00

We had 16 contributors plus 5 contributions for just the Club:

Mill contributed 21 items, Mike 15, plus others of lessor amounts (All appreciated).

We took in $2,224.00, of this amount $405.85 goes to the Club treasury.

When was it last repotted? How did you water it? Does it throw back new leaves and branches?

BYOT and get advice from Allen or anyone else you care to ask.

Allen Carver will be prepared to do a question and answer program, then we can go to work.

If you missed the auction, you missed a good one. Cheer up you can get ready for another one in December.

We should all wish our refreshment coordinator, Kelsey Sheridan all the best on her college career beginning ber or November.

I haven't check into our current slate of officers, but we may be late in checking for candidates for 2009. With all the political jazz in the news we should be in the mode to get this done with a lot less hubris.

Terry, this is something you need to look into. If you still have a year to go on this administration, forget I asked. Mean time, everyone think about it, this year or next, let us know.

Check out the pictures on the next page of the action in the August auction.

Come early and leave happy

Due to the start of college life, our gracious refreshment committee, Kelsy Sheridan can no longer lead this effort. We are looking for a volunteer to collect volunteers who will do the refreshments. That person will only have to engage Oct and Nov, for this year, since Sep and Dec are taken care of. See Pres. Terry at the meeting.
